SUNNI BAGHDAD BECOMES LAN OF SILENT RUINS

By CHARLES D. BECK

BAGHDAD, March 25 — The city of finally capital talks in a bleak spot of the city past four years since it was once peaceful.

There was a world of rising buildings, bustling traffic, and a vibrant community. Now, the city is reeling from years of violence, with many neighborhoods abandoned.

Aged, Frail and Denied Care by Their Insurers

By CHARLES DUHigg

Long-Term Trouble

You've probably heard the familiar voice on the radio, offering to buy full albums rather than a single track. But what are the implications of this growing trend?

It's not just about the music industry. The rise of single-track sales could be a sign of a broader trend in consumer behavior.

More on Edwards Diagnosis

In Chicago, the Ill. Ailing

Obama's health care reform plan is facing a major challenge: the lack of consensus among the different stakeholders.

A Shift in Palestinian Goals

The political landscape in the Middle East is shifting. Palestinian leaders are looking beyond the traditional conflict with Israel to address new issues.

G.O.P. Senators Lego Weight of War Toward '08

By PETE THOMAS

Washington is divided over how to deal with the war in Iraq. Some senators are pushing for a more measured approach, while others are calling for a stronger commitment.

So You Picked the Final Four? This Mad March, Join the Club

By ROBERT J. THOMPSON

ESPN.com's bracket pool, only four of the 3.1 million entries in this year's pool picked Florida and Ohio State to meet on the tournament's opening day.

Failing Schools See a Solution in Longer Day

By DIANA JEAN SCHIMMAN

In New York, the school system is considering proposals to extend the school day. Many see it as a way to improve student achievement.

The Music Album As a Role

Many labels are trying to revive the album format, with limited success. But there are signs of a resurgence.

Inside

G.O.P. Senators Lego Weight of War Toward '08

By PETE THOMAS

WASHINGTON — Senators John E. Breaux of Louisiana and Lindsey Graham of South Carolina said that they were prepared to begin negotiating a cut in the war appropriation, which was set at $107 billion for fiscal year 2008.

In Chicago, the Ill. Ailing

Obama's health care reform plan is facing a major challenge: the lack of consensus among the different stakeholders.

A Shift in Palestinian Goals

The political landscape in the Middle East is shifting. Palestinian leaders are looking beyond the traditional conflict with Israel to address new issues.

 Poor Behavior Is Linked To Time in Day Care

A recent study found that children in day care who spent more than six hours a day in care were more likely to have behavior problems.

Debate Over Educational Roles

An American Indian child is legitimate. The Indian Child Welfare Act was passed to protect the rights of American Indian children.

For more on Edwards Diagnosis

In Chicago, the Ill. Ailing

Obama's health care reform plan is facing a major challenge: the lack of consensus among the different stakeholders.

A Shift in Palestinian Goals

The political landscape in the Middle East is shifting. Palestinian leaders are looking beyond the traditional conflict with Israel to address new issues.
Bilking the Elderly, With a Corporate Assist

By CHARLES DUHIGG

NEW YORK, SUNDAY, MAY 20, 2007

While the public still has a notion that the elderly are invulnerable, billions of dollars are being bilked from them every year.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITIES

Three decades with a combined $4.7 million in savings, are among many elderly people who are being bilked.

In New York City and the metropolitan region.

Job Market Listings............. Sunday Business, page 17-25

TV Update ................ 28

Borel aboard, at the

Sense, with Calvin

and building with the environning and jostling. Outside, dozens of din of shuffling paper, throat clear-

cinderblocks in the aisles, or strain

tiptoeing carefully among thin foam

Continued on Page 19

The New York Times Style Maga-

Frog Jubilee in Northern California

The New York Times

Page 1 of 28

A Bid Denied

Eco-T ecture

The Senate Immigration Deal

Exit, Stage Right?

Disguised Men Kill 15 in Iraq

Illegal Migrants

Wal-Mart

U.S. PAYS PAKISTAN TO FIGHT TERROR, BUT PATRIOTS EBB

$1 BILLION IN ANNUAL AID

Need to Back Musharraf

Trumps Failures in the

Hunt for Militants

By DAVID E. SANGER

Wal-Mart merges

By RANDAL C. ARCHIBOLD

The New York Times

continued...
This document contains multiple articles and sections, discussing various topics such as politics, law, religion, and healthcare. Here is a summary of the key points:

Security Forces Face Criminal Charges in Iraq

- By James Glanz and Barbara Starr
- The BBC has published a report indicating that some 180 of Iraq’s national security forces and police were suspected of human rights abuses.
- The forces were identified as part of a larger investigation by the US military into allegations of abuse and corruption.
- The investigation was reportedly based on evidence collected by the US military and intelligence agencies.

As Clinton Solidifies Edge, G.O.P. Field Is Wide Open

- Clinton’s campaign is gaining momentum, with coverage highlighting her strong showing in the Democratic primaries.
- Some analysts believe that her solid performance is starting to put pressure on her Republican rivals, despite the wide-open nature of the race.

Nurance and Resolve in Rulings By Attorney General Nominee

- The confirmation hearing for the attorney general nominee is underway, with focus on his record and qualifications.
- Key issues include his stance on criminal justice, immigration, and civil rights.

Welcome or Not, Orthodoxy Is Back in Russia’s Public Schools

- The Russian Orthodox Church is making a comeback in public schools, with the government allowing religious education as an elective.
- This is sparking controversy among secular advocates, who argue that it violates the principle of separation of church and state.

In Democratic Race, Rivals Are Turning More Aggressive

- With the Democratic primaries entering their final stages, candidates are stepping up their rhetoric and attacks on each other.
- This is expected to intensify as the race narrows, with the former front-runners under pressure to demonstrate their strength.

For Home Delivery Call 1-800-NYTIMES

- The New York Times offers home delivery services, with rates varying by city and region.
- Customers can call 1-800-NYTIMES for more information on availability and pricing.

Late Edition

- The latest news and updates from around the world, including politics, business, and culture.
- This section provides a comprehensive overview of the day’s events and developments.