2000 Full-Time MBA

Class President: Vanessa Toy

Email: Vanessa.Toy.2000@anderson.ucla.edu

From Vanessa Toy: “Hello Class of 2000...Hope you are all having a great 2013 so far and enjoying our new digital Assets and Class Notes format. It has been nice seeing and hearing about everyone’s news. Keep the updates coming! In December, the San Francisco Bay Area alumni group held their annual holiday party. A fun time for all and it is always great to see the Anderson crowd in full force at our events. It was wonderful seeing classmates Itir (Sayin) Clarke, Rich Ginn, Ross Borden, and Gary Yeung. Eric Mokover (‘80) also made an appearance, which made the evening more special. Earlier in December, I braved the cold weather and headed to Denver where Alek Orloff, Tom Mercer, and Tom’s wife, Allison, and I had a nice time reconnecting over dinner and cocktails. They are all doing well and say hello to everyone! We were hoping to see Brian Knitt, who is also living in the area, but missed him this time around. And what a great surprise: Ganesh Nair came to San Francisco to attend the Fancy Food Show and we ran into Terry Chi who had a booth there with amazing, tasty food!”

Andre Caldeira shares, “After 12 years, the entrepreneurial seed planted during my time at Anderson came to life: in 2012 I started up my own company! It is Proposito (which means purpose in English)--a consulting, training, and development firm specialized in work-life balance. I developed a methodology to evaluate work stress that can be used by professionals, teams, and companies. I also have a column on Brazil’s most prestigious business magazine’s portal, www.Exame.com, on the same subject, and just published my first book (in which I created a workaholic character named Joe Labor). The invitations for public speeches, workshops, and the like are really kicking in. I have been married for over 17 years to Dani. She is a chef in L.A. and has her own catering business and is doing great. We have two kids (Lucas, 11, and Clara, 7). Would love to catch up

Adam Campos updates, “I’ve been quite busy with my t-shirt factory in downtown L.A. We’ve expanded our screen printing and sewing each year, making shirts for clothing companies and also businesses like Universal Studios, the LA Clippers, Lakers, and lots more. I also opened a retail store called Student Body. It is located in Westwood Village next to In-N-Out Burger. The store offers men’s and women’s activewear (yoga

Luca Goldoni will participate in the next political elections in Italy. Luca summarizes, “Although I do not expect to get elected, I feel the need to do something to change the political class in my Country. I am deeply disappointed for the inability of the country to fully express its economic and ethical potential. A group of Italian intellectuals, among them Luigi Zingales (professor of entrepreneurship and finance at the Booth School of Business of University of Chicago), Michele Boldrin (professor of economics at UCLA, Chicago, Kellogg, and more recently in St. Louis) and Oscar Giannino (a bright economic analyst and journalist) launched a new party characterized by a straight-forward *that Cathy A. Sandeen, a longtime leader in serving non-traditional learners, will join the Council as vice president for education attainment and innovation. Sandeen has been dean of continuing education at the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) since 2006, overseeing an organization that serves 50,000 part-time nontraditional students per year and encompasses 400 staff, 2,500 part-time faculty and a self-supporting, $75 million annual budget. UCLA Extension, a large academic unit within the university, was an early adopter of online teaching and learning and has integrated online courses into its curriculum for more than 15 years. Sandeen, who is well-versed in how technology can increase student access and success, recently negotiated a partnership with a Silicon Valley start-up called Empowered Careers, which re-trains baby boomers affected by the economic downturn so they can find jobs and restart their careers. ## 2008 (continued...) EMBA

We need your help! We have lost touch with the following classmates via email:

Elizabeth Sloan

If you know how to reach any of these classmates, please help us get connected and send us an email to: classnotes@anderson.ucla.edu

2008 GEMBA Asia Pacific

Class President: Mark Layton
Mark.Layton.2008@anderson.ucla.edu

Mark Layton shares, "It's been a busy year for me and my agile transformation company, Platinum Edge. With the support of the UCLA alumni network, we expanded heavily into Asia with Platinum Edge Pte Ltd in Singapore and were named to the INC. 1000.

Mark Layton

Hope all are having a great year!" (Submitted 2/27/13)

2009 Full-Time MBA

Class President: Phil Irvine
 Email: Philip.Irvine.2009@anderson.ucla.edu

Erin Eriksson updates, "Since completing my MBA/MPP in 2009, I worked on a World Bank project in Kenya and Ethiopia and then relocated to NYC to work in corporate philanthropy with Johnson & Johnson. I recently accepted a position as director of the Americas with the M·A·C AIDS Fund, the charitable arm of M·A·C Cosmetics. In this role, I will be managing our strategic and philanthropic giving for HIV/AIDS in Latin America, the Caribbean, the U.S., and Canada. Loving this fabulous job and wonderful city!"

(Submitted 1/25/13)

After 20 years in the software industry, Kyle Joseph has left to start his own company in the entertainment industry. He has relocated back to Asia and is living in Manila, Philippines.
