TEACHING CASES WRITTEN

- Club West*—A property management company and a developer negotiate, in the shadow of escalating legal fees and a trial, the fate of a deposit in escrow after the deal has gone sour. Negotiation simulation designed to demonstrate egocentric bias and escalation of commitment.
- Jester Company*—A small, family-owned publisher attempts to negotiate purchasing terms with a wholesale distributor. An exercise in integrative bargaining and persuasion through writing.
- Pass/Fail*—An entrepreneur specializing in test-preparation materials for clinical psychology licensing exams attempts to sell his business to a large competitor. An exercise in value creation and contingent contracts.
- NML Pharm*—A small pharmaceutical company announces a revolutionary new AIDS drug, but their partner conducts independent tests casting doubt on the drug's effectiveness. Designed to demonstrate the effect of partitioning events on students' judgment of probabilities.
- A Vote for Buchanan is a vote for Gore?* An analysis of voting patterns in Palm Beach County, Florida in the 2000 presidential election suggests that the misleading nature of the butterfly ballot design may have cost Al Gore the presidency. A discussion piece for courses in statistics.
